

Shri Confucius:

Shri confucius was born in china & he was born in a poor family with good values. His dad died when he was small & his mom told him to study and she died when Shri was 23 years old. One day there were wars & he thought that if people were educated, they would be nice. <sup>to each other.</sup>

He told that an honest man is not a saint & will become a saint if he is <sup>e</sup> educated, self-disciplined, and does good things. He also told that "we have to behave to others how we want them to behave with us". His teachings improved everyone.

Shri Lao tze:

Shri Lao tze was born in China around 600 or 500 BC. At the age of 160, he was tired of <sup>tch</sup> watching bad things so he went out of the country. And he saw a guard. The guard wanted to know about shri Lao tze wisdom. So shri <sup>Lao Tse</sup> taught that we should love each other, we cannot think & we cannot have desires & Shri Lao tze said there are more things in the book called "tao te ching" and from that book, the main thing is yin is the left channel, yang is the right channel. <sup>"tao is the central channel"</sup> We cannot go to left or right channels. We have to be in <sup>the</sup> central channel and the tao created the whole world.
